We were recently invited to #LiveLikeALocal in Singapore and it was so much fun! Here are the top 8 things to do in the Lion City:

1. Fill your Insta feed with gorgeous shots of street art

Go earlier in the morning, before 10am, to avoid the crowd of tourists taking their snaps :)

Location: Haji Lane

8. Explore the colours and flavours of Little India

Little India is located north of Kampong Glam in the Rochor district. In addition to the good food and incredible shopping (you guys have to check out Mustafa Centre omg!), the area is super Instagrammable! Look out for the elephant art installation along Hindoo Road. It's adorable!

We stayed in two hotels, Village Hotel Bugis and Village Hotel Albert Court, that were strategically located within Bugis, Rochor, and Little India

Village Hotel Bugis is located within walking distance to Arab Street, Haji Lane, Bugis Junction and Bugis Street. If you plan on exploring further, you only need to take a 2-minute walk to the Bugis MRT.

The hotel itself is beautiful and comfortable, with a lot of amenities including a club lounge, swimming pool, gym, and a number of restaurants. But what we loved most was the family room that came with a children's bed, play tent, toys, and even kid-friendly toiletries!

Meanwhile, Village Hotel Albert Court is walking distance from Little India and the Rochor MRT station, as well as being close-by to Orchard Road.

This heritage hotel is steeped in heritage with traditional Indian and Peranakan settings and motifs in the walls. Besides, the rooms are awesome and spacious, the perfect place to get a good night's sleep after a full day of exploring!

Overall, it was an amazing trip to discover a side of Singapore we'd never seen before!

Our trip down south was courtesy of Village Hotels Singapore. The best part of the weekend stay was that everything was within walking distance from the hotel!

Any further and you only need to hop on a bus or take the MRT, both of which are super close by :)
